

Peter & Kelly on The Way

Prayerletter September 2011

The rain is raining all around as we experience a wetter than usual rainy season. Results: dozens of tadpoles in plastic cups on our counters that the boys have caught in the puddles behind our house; colds and flus going around our team and Thai friends. Please pray for resilient health, especially as our baby is due in one month. Currently both Kelly and Emmet are fighting bugs. The baby seems healthy and active, although at the last checkup he was lying head up – we hope he will turn head down before birth.

We are thankful for the encouraging time we had with the team from our Dutch church in July. They were able to support us in many existing ministries and also to help in opening up a new opportunity tutoring English at one of the local universities. Please pray that our team would be able to make good contacts there and that chances to share faith would open.

Our team is going through a transition time, as our team leaders leave to take up a temporary position at the OMF headquarters in Singapore for one year. They are the most experienced in ministry and in Thai language of our team. Please pray for wisdom as we adjust activities to the abilities and availabilities of those of us who remain. Also please pray that people who had relationships primarily with their family would still feel free to connect to our community here and most of all that God would continue the work He has begun in lives regardless of missionary comings and goings.

Peter is studying a module about Christian perspectives on Buddhism with Boy. Please pray that God would use this to continue the work that He is doing in Boy's life and that Peter would be sensitive to how God is using this in Boy's journey of faith and would be able to join in and support this process.

With much love and God's blessings,

Peter & Kelly

On our 8th anniversary

Pray with us:

For resilient health and energy, especially for Kelly as she entered the last month of pregnancy.

That the baby would turn head-down soon.

For our team's transition.

For Kate and for Boy, that God would continue His work in their lives.

For all of us: continued growth in Thai language.

For the Thai church in Maemoh that Peter is helping to disciple (more on that coming up!).

Praise with us:

For safe travels.

For a refreshing family beach-holiday in August.

That Emmet is happier now at pre-school two mornings per week.

For a good time with the visiting teams in July.

For new opportunities at Thammasat University.

For the formation of a new Thai government without incident.
